

ELECTRONIC RESOURCES POLICY

I. PREAMBLE

Computer usage and network access to telecommunications resources is available to the staff of Lafayette Parish School System (LPSS). The District is very pleased to make this tremendous resource available, and we believe it offers vast, diverse and unique resources to both staff and students. The goal in providing this service is to promote educational excellence and innovation in the LPSS by facilitating resource sharing, innovation and communication. Electronic resources, with on-line capabilities, provide an exceptional opportunity for the promotion of intellectual inquiry, comprehensive information gathering, and awareness of global diversity through world-wide exploration and communication.

LPSS has made a considerable investment in time and money toward the deployment of electronic communications resources. Successful operation of these resources requires that its users regard it as a shared resource and cooperate to form a community of diverse interests with the common purpose of advancing a world class public education in our schools. LPSS provides computers and network resources to be used in accordance with LPSS's general policies and guidelines for propriety and with relevance to our educational mission. Because these resources are funded in part with federal funding, the LPSS administration is obligated to ensure that these resources are not used to support activities of a questionable or objectionable nature. The system administrators are employees of the LPSS and, on behalf of the LPSS, reserve the right to monitor any and all activity on computers and the network.

As telecommunications and other new technologies shift the ways that information may be accessed, communicated and transferred by members of society, those changes may also alter instruction and student learning. LPSS supports access to rich information resources along with the development by staff of appropriate skills to analyze and evaluate such resources for educational use. LPSS requires that all such materials be consistent with district-adopted guides, supporting and enriching the curriculum while taking into account the varied instructional needs, learning styles, abilities and developmental levels of students.

Telecommunications, because they may lead to any publicly available fileserver in the world, will open classrooms and offices to electronic information resources that have not been screened by educators. On a global network it is impossible to control all materials and an industrious user may discover controversial information or material that may not be considered of educational value in the context of the school setting. While LPSS firmly believes that the benefits to staff and students far exceed any disadvantages of properly used access, it is expected that staff will blend thoughtful use of available information throughout the curriculum and that staff will strictly adhere to the following guidelines for use with students as well as for themselves. These guidelines are provided so that users are aware of the responsibilities they acquire by utilization of these resources.

The specific services and conditions for services being offered by LPSS may change periodically. LPSS will make decisions on whether specific uses of our electronic information resources are consistent with this policy. The LPSS will remain the final authority on use of resources and the issuance of user accounts. This policy is available for viewing on the LPSS website (<http://www.lpssonline.com>). LPSS may modify these rules at any time by publishing the modified rules(s) on the website. This policy does not attempt to articulate all required or prescribed behavior by the LPSS staff.

II. TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR USE OF COMPUTERS, THE INTERNET, ON-LINE RESOURCES AND SERVICES AND EMAIL

A. RESPONSIBILITY AND ACCEPTABLE USE

1. The purpose of LPSS owned computers and the network is to support education and research in and among academic institutions by providing access to rich resources and the opportunity for collaborative work. Computer and network users are expected to use the services provided strictly as an educational support resource. All other uses are prohibited. The system is not a forum for the expressions of personal opinions on any subject, including the expression of religious views. The use of LPSS owned equipment and resources must be consistent with the educational goals and objectives of our school system. Users are expected to act in a responsible, ethical and legal manner.
2. Access to the information resources infrastructure, sharing of information, and security of intellectual products, all require that each and every user accept responsibility to protect the rights of the community. Any materials or files, such as, but not limited to, lesson plans, schedules, letters, memos, documents, programs, spreadsheets, databases, and/or presentations created with LPSS equipment and/or facilities, or during periods for which the employee is compensated by LPSS, become the intellectual property of LPSS. Any member of the LPSS staff who, without authorization, accesses, uses, destroys, alters, dismantles or disfigures any LPSS information technologies, properties or facilities, including those owned by third parties, thereby threatens the atmosphere of increased access and sharing of information, threatens the security within which members of the network may create intellectual products and maintain records, and has engaged in unethical and unacceptable behavior.
3. The users are ultimately responsible for computers under their supervision and all actions and activity with the assigned network accounts. Transmissions of any material in violation of any local, state or federal regulation is prohibited. This includes, but is not limited to copyrighted material; abusive, threatening, or obscene material; or material protected by trade secret. Use for commercial activities is prohibited. Use for product advertisement, political lobbying, or religious proselytizing is also prohibited.

Users are advised never to access, keep, or send anything in violation of this policy.

Users will be held accountable for improper usage, which can result in disciplinary actions including the loss of privileges, suspension, employment termination, and/or legal ramifications. Staff can have no rights to, nor any expectations of, privacy in email, Internet use, data manipulation, or other work accomplished and/or stored on LPSS owned technology resources. System administrators can and will search any or all LPSS owned computers--locally and/or remotely--at any time for any reason.

B. PRIVILEGES

Computers and access to network services will only be provided to staff who agree to act in a considerate and responsible manner. Usage and access is a privilege, not a right. Both usage and access entail responsibility. The system administrators will deem what is inappropriate use, and their decision is final. The system administrators may close an account and revoke or deny usage at any time as deemed necessary.

C. SOFTWARE COPYRIGHT

Every computer must have its own original license and the appropriate number of media. It is illegal to purchase a single set of original software to load onto more than one computer or to lend, copy or distribute software for any reason without the prior written consent of the software manufacturer. Improper usage may be tried under both civil and criminal law. Federal judges have shown their intolerance of copyright violators by handing down increasingly large damage awards.

D. EMAIL/INTERNET/WEBPAGE/NETWORK SECURITY

1. Although LPSS has purchased filtering hardware and software to help block access or exposure to harmful materials, be warned that the Lafayette Parish School System does not have control of the information on the Internet or sent in email. Be aware that messages may contain material that is illegal, defamatory, inaccurate, abusive, violent, profane, sexually oriented, racially offensive, obscene, encourages the use of controlled substances, or is otherwise offensive to users. LPSS does not condone the use of such materials and does not permit usage of such materials in the school environment. Staff knowingly accessing or maintaining such materials in the school environment will be dealt with according to the discipline policies of the individual school buildings as well as district policy. Information is available to the LPSS system administrators regarding personal use of Internet on-line activities.

2. Ultimately, users are responsible for the content of email messages in their account. Communications on the network should be viewed as public in nature. The law requires that e-mail be retained and made part of the public records of the LPSS. Email is not a confidential medium for transmitting personal messages. System administrators may review communications to maintain integrity system-wide and ensure that staff are using the system responsibly. LPSS has access to all email, and it may be routinely and randomly checked. Inappropriate or profane messages, as well as messages that disrupt the educational and administrative goals of LPSS, may result in loss of privileges and/or disciplinary action. Messages relating to, or in support of, illegal activities may be reported to the appropriate authorities. LPSS reserves the right to cooperate fully with any local, state, or federal officials in any investigation concerning or relating to any mail transmitted on LPSS computers.
3. In accordance:
 - a. Email is not to be left on the server. Users are expected to remove old messages on their computers in a timely fashion (monthly) and the system administrators may remove such messages if not attended to regularly and properly by the user.
 - b. Email chain letters and joke lists are expressly forbidden and should immediately be deleted.
 - c. Home/private email is not to be accessed by LPSS resources.
 - d. Email signatures may contain only an employee's LPSS contact information and professional designations. Emoticons, religious statements and quotations, and other personal quotations are prohibited.
4. Electronic information resource security is a high priority. Staff members should not allow others to use their account or disclose their, or others', passwords. Passwords should not be easy for others to guess and should be documented in a place not easily accessible. All staff passwords will be on file with their direct line administrator.
5. Staff email accounts shall not be readily accessible by students.
6. The LPSS characterizes as unethical and unacceptable, and just cause for taking disciplinary action, removal of privileges, and/or legal action, any activity through which an individual
 - a. Submits, publishes, or displays on LPSS owned or maintained resources any material that is illegal, defamatory, inaccurate, abusive, violent, profane, sexually oriented, racially offensive, obscene, encourages the use of controlled substances, or is otherwise offensive to users;

- m. Refuses to develop, implement, or maintain security procedures that ensure the integrity of individual and institutional files; and/or

- n. Visits websites for any purpose other than conducting business—either educational or operational—for or on behalf of the LPSS.
7. If users can identify a security, network or email problem, they must notify a system administrator at (337) 521-7523 or by email to sysadmin@lpssonline.com. Users are not to show or demonstrate the problem to other users. Any user identified as a security risk or having a history of problems with the system may be denied access.

E. RISK

An account holder uses our network at their own risk. LPSS and the system administrators do not warrant that the network's functions or services or the information or software contained on the system will meet the user's requirements or that the operation of the system will be uninterrupted or error-free or that defects in the system will be corrected. LPSS electronic information resources are provided on an "as is, as available" basis. LPSS does not make any warranties, expressed or implied, including, without limitation, those of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose, with respect to any services provided by same and any information or software contained therein, and will not be responsible for any damages suffered by the user. Users specifically agree to indemnify LPSS and the system administrators for any losses, costs, or damages, including reasonable attorneys' fees, incurred by LPSS and the system administrators relating to, or arising out of any breach of this policy by staff. We are not responsible for

1. Loss of data resulting from delays, non-deliveries, mis-deliveries, or service interruptions caused by LPSS's own negligence or by user errors or omissions;
2. Any costs, liability or damages caused by the way the user chooses to employ their access; and/or
3. Any consequences or service interruptions or changes, even if these disruptions arise from circumstances under the control of the Lafayette Parish School System.

The use of obtained content or any information received from a network resource is at the user's own risk, and the LPSS specifically denies any responsibility for the accuracy or quality of information obtained through its services.

This policy is applicable to any member of the LPSS staff, whether at educational institutions, administrative offices, or elsewhere, and refers to all information resources whether individually controlled or shared, stand alone or networked.

F. VIOLATIONS

1. Violations of this policy may result in, but not limited to
 - a. Loss of access;
 - b. Additional disciplinary action determined at the building or district level, including suspension and/or termination; and/or
 - c. The involvement of law enforcement agencies, when applicable.
