

STUDENTS ON COURT PROBATION

A student on court probation is accountable to the court probation officer. In the event such a student is the cause of a school problem, his case should be referred to the Supervisor of Child Welfare and Attendance who will work with the probation officer and the principal toward a settlement of the problem. The principal should keep the student's teacher(s) informed of any developments in the case.

Issued prior to 1975

Revised: 10/1/80